PUBLIC HEARING - ORDER AUTHORIZING $5,705,000 WATER BONDS FOR WATER & SEWER DISTRICT V

Chairman Britt called the Public Hearing to order regarding an Order Authorizing $5,705,000 Water Bonds for Water and Sewer District V.

James E. Hill, Jr., County Attorney, explained the Public Hearing procedure and requested comments from anyone present who were for or against the order authorizing $5,705,000 Water Bonds for Columbus County Water and Sewer District V.

There were no comments.

PUBLIC HEARING CLOSED

At 8:03 A.M., a motion was made by Commissioner Wilson, seconded by Commissioner Memory, and passed unanimously to close the Public Hearing.

PUBLIC MEETING - RIEGEL RIDGE FRANCHISE AGREEMENT AMENDMENT

Chairman Britt called the Riegel Ridge Franchise Agreement Amendment Public Meeting to order and announced that no action will be taken at this meeting. The hearing will be recessed until the April 16, 2001 meeting at 7:30 P.M. in the Bowers Auditorium to allow ample space for those who wish to attend.

There were approximately eighty (80) persons in attendance.

Chairman Britt requested anyone wishing to comment to raise their hand, state their name and speak at the podium.

The following persons made comments:

1. Greg Parker: Mr. Parker commented the reason residents did not speak against the landfill issue early on, they had confidence in the Commissioners to look after their interests and not let something like a regional landfill come into Columbus County. Mr. Parker suggested the Board to look toward a three-county landfill instead of inviting garbage from a 100-mile radius.
2. Steve Smith: Mr. Smith stated he was speaking as a business owner and asked to reserve the right to speak as an individual taxpayer at the April 16 meeting. Mr. Smith stated that Lake Waccamaw has the highest property values in Columbus County and a regional landfill five (5) miles away will have a negative impact on values in coming years. Mr. Smith stated he does not think a landfill is the industrial development the county should get into and the Green Swamp is the wrong place for a regional landfill.
3. Lonnie Fox: Mr. Fox stated he has been a property owner of Lake Waccamaw since 1973 and is now a permanent resident there and has a vested interest in Lake Waccamaw. Mr. Fox quoted from a 1988 EPA report that even the best landfill liner will ultimately fall over time and feels the Board is headed down the wrong path.
4. Teresa Bush: Ms. Bush reported she has lived at Lake Waccamaw for ten (10) years and was appearing before the Board as a "concerned mother for her children” and other children. Ms. Bush stated her concern is the well being of the land and the excessive traffic on 211.

5. Chad Wagner: Mr. Wagner stated he has been a resident of the Green Swamp area for two (2) years and I want to applaud the Commissioners for your efforts in looking into the situation and to listen to the concerns of the people.

PUBLIC MEETING RECESSED

A motion was made by Commissioner McKenzie, seconded by Commissioner Norris and passed unanimously to recess the public hearing at 8:25 A.M. until April 16, 2001 at 7:30 P.M. at the Bowers Auditorium, Whiteville, NC.

REGULARLY SCHEDULED BOARD MEETING COMMENCED

Immediately, thereafter, Chairman Britt called the regularly scheduled Board Meeting to order and Ed Worley, Aging Director, gave the invocation.

RIEGEL RIDGE (PROPOSED) - COMMENTS BY JEFF LANE

Jeff Lane, Friends of the Green Swamp Chairman, provided the Board with a prepared statement as follows and read it aloud:

What are the County's Alternatives to a Regional Landfill

"Columbus County needs a landfill - now and for its future." That's the statement being made by the supporters of the Riegel Ridge Regional Landfill. The landfill is presented as a necessity for the county, and most of the County Commissioners seemed to have bought into their sales pitch. The landfill supporters would have you believe that there are no alternatives for the county, but experience shows us time and again that we cannot trust those who would benefit at our expense to tell us what the alternatives are. So the question remains, "what are the alternatives?"

To examine the alternatives to the landfill, first we must identify what it is proposed to accomplish. The most obvious item in this column is to generate revenue. No one in their right mind would voluntarily become the dumping ground of the entire region, and money is the incentive offered by Riegel Ridge to entice the county to do this. Hosting a regional landfill is being touted as a means to help the county balance its ledgers in the short term.

However, the vast majority of citizens of Columbus County do not view "garbage for industry" as an acceptable proposition. The citizens of Columbus County are uniting to tell you, our elected officials, that any short term benefit is overwhelmed by the long term liability, that no county which looks to its future can see this as sustainable income, and that this is an unsatisfactory approach to raising revenue. Those who see the landfill as a solution to short term budget issues be aware - we are resolute in our convictions. We will not go away, and we will not allow you to sell the future of this county to outside interests for short term gain. One has only to look at Anson County, where its citizens have been fighting a regional landfill for over ten (10) years, to see what lies down this path.

The Riegel Ridge Landfill supporters have been telling us that we are in a crisis situation, that we might get closed out of the regional landfill where we now send our waste at any time, leaving the county in a dire predicament. There is simply no basis for this assertion. According to Troy Mitchell, spokesman for Waste Industries Regional Landfill at Sampson County, there is no consideration being given to shutting out anyone from their landfill. On the contrary, they are aggressively seeking input streams, and would be glad to discuss long term contracts at a discounted price. Moreover, the remaining projected life of the Sampson County facility exceeds the entire planned life of the Reigel Ridge Landfill, such that it will still be open when the Riegel Ridge dump is full and Columbus County is looking at where to building the next one.

But what about the county's waste management problem? By all accounts, landfilling is intended to be the last resort for waste disposal, not the first. The county's flat rate garbage disposal structure is the equivalent of a Chinese buffet - pay once then dump all you want. Under this arrangement, residents who recycle and prevent waste subsidize their neighbors' wastefulness. Those who generate very little waste (such as senior citizens living on fixed incomes) are charged the same as affluent consumers who throw away ten times the amount. Garbage disposal is a commodity, like electricity and water service, and should be treated as such. The concept of "Pay As You Throw" (PAYT) is not new or novel, and has been proven to dramatically reduce waste generation and increase recycling. Craven County's use of PAYT in a county-wide integrated waste disposal program has already reduced the county's waste stream by approximately 50%. Craven County is rightfully proud of its example, and would be glad to share its experience with its neighbors. The implementation of a meaningful waste stream reduction program, including PAYT, must be the starting point of any initiative to address waste management issues in Columbus County, and is clearly the right thing to do. Conversely, siting a regional landfill in Columbus County will virtually eliminate any chance that the county can implement an initiative to reduce its waste stream, and can only be expected to have the opposite effect. What basis can the county government offer its citizens to reduce, reuse or recycle wastes, when they are being dumped on by every county within a hundred miles.

The landfill supporters state that a landfill is necessary to attract industry to the county, but offer no basis as to why this is so. More than half the counties in North Carolina, including some of the fastest growing in the state, have no operating municipal solid waste landfill of any sort. We, the citizens of Columbus County, assert that a county which is a leader in protecting its environment and has a strong waste management program is much preferred to prospective citizens and industry alike than one which chooses a regional landfill as its waste management solution.

The landfill supporters note the money that has been invested to date. There has been no taxpayer money spent on the proposed landfill to this point, rather, it is a pure speculative venture on the part of Riegel Ridge, LLC. Indeed, the regulations require the applicant to present the permit application ( and thereby bear the cost of developing it) before he can even make a request to the county for a host agreement, so that the county and its citizens can have the benefit of reviewing it in evaluating the proposed facility. Simply put, the applicant has chosen to place money at risk. If he is successful he gains financial rewards, if he fails he loses his investment. That is what risk is about. The county is not required to provide the applicant with a valid host agreement simply because he shows up with an application, and the county is under no obligation to proceed at this point.

So what are the alternatives? First, recognize that we, the citizens, will not allow the county to sell its future in the interests of short term benefits, and that a regional landfill should not and will not be a solution to any immediate budget issues. Next, do the right thing, and develop a working 10 year solid waste management plan which incorporates PAYT, educational programs, and other elements which are proven effective in reducing waste generation. The road maps to a successful program are in front of you. Do the right thing, and we, the citizens of Columbus County, stand ready to work with our elected officials to create a cleaner, better tomorrow. Alternately, we will dig in our heels and fight for as long as it takes should our officials ignore our voice and seek to make Columbus County a regional dumping ground. Columbus County can choose to be part of the solution, or they can contribute to the problem. Those are the alternatives.

Jeff Lane

Chairman, Friends of the Green Swamp

WILDLIFE - REQUEST TO RECONSIDER BAN ON NETTING IN WACCAMAW RIVER

Jack Fowler, a concerned citizen, presented the Board with a petition signed by 346 residents of Brunswick and Columbus County requesting the following:

We, the citizens of Columbus and Brunswick Counties feel that the ban on netting in the Waccamaw River should be considered. With the proper net size and season, it would help with the growing population of the non-game fish that prey on the natural game fish. We think this would benefit the game and net fisherman if considered, evaluated and done in the proper perspective.

A motion was made by Commissioner Dutton, seconded by Commissioner Norris and passed unanimously to contact the North Carolina Wildlife Resource Commission, Division of Inland Fisheries, and request them to reconsider the ban on netting in the Waccamaw River as the public was not aware of the public hearing that was held regarding this action.

John Saylor, Fire Marshal, requested the Board to amend the expansion of the Brunswick Volunteer Fire Department from their current five (5) miles to six (6) miles.

James E. Hill, Jr., County Attorney, advised the Board in order to expand the boundaries of a fire district a public hearing must be held and the persons affected in the area notified.

A motion was made by Commissioner Norris, seconded by Commissioner Wilson and passed unanimously to hold a public hearing at the Brunswick Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department on Monday, May 7, 2001 at 7:00 P.M.
